

What is Restorative Justice?

Restorative Justice focuses on repairing and recognising positive relationships by re-establishing balance of power between two opposite or conflicting parties. The approach aims at conflict resolution and prevention on an equality, dignified and respectful base.

What is the DigiArts project?

The Digital Arts Dialogue project aims to focus on “interrupted” dialogue and develop a qualitative and effective way for young people and youth workers to exchange in dialogue and cooperation and support each other in an innovative digital way using Restorative Justice values and digital arts.

Objectives of the project

- Provide youth workers with an opportunity to broaden their methodologies
- Enable young people to receive effective and suitable support and youth counselling
- Improve youth workers' digital competences and skill for youth work
